Local Gossip

A deep snow fell Monday night.

Any man who will kick on this winter should be tarred and feathered.

Wanted.

Wanted 20,000 pounds of wool. High est market price. W. R. Gott & Co.

Read our clubbing offer with the Cincinnati daily Post. Only $2.50 for both papers one year.

All passenger trains have been crowded lately. The present service is fine, and our people appreciate it.

There will be preaching at the Presbyterian church next Sunday, and every member is urged to be present.

The Baptist Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Susan Salter, at Miss Sallie Tillet's next Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

The court day horse jockeys were put on an out-of-the-way street Monday, for which a suffering public is duly grateful.

Rev. Chas. Brown, of Knoxville, will preach at the Presbyterian church the 1st Sunday in March. As he will likely be called as pastor, every member is asked to be present.

The warm days last week caused many citizens to get out the garden tools and put them in shape. Many gardens have already been cleaned. Better wait 'til summer, brethren.

Engineer Bradley, the oldest on the K. C., was badly injured in a wreck near London last Friday. He has many friends along the road who hope for his speedy recovery. He is sixty years old, and one of the fastest runners in Kentucky.

A large congregation worshiped at the Methodist church Sunday morning. A deep interest was manifested by the people. The singing was excellent, especially the beautiful solo rendered by Mr. Parr, the service at 7 P. M. was well attended.

"Home coming week" with the Garrard county people will be the week of July 18, 19, 20. That's the week of the Lancaster fair, and all those who have wandered from the old Kaintucky home will hie Garrardward to get another slice of old ham and a piece of home made light bread.

Dave Ross, known to his many friends as "Raggedy," tells The Record he is a candidate for sheriff on the next Democratic ticket. If he makes as good a sheriff as he has proven to be the model jailor, Garrard will have every reason to feel proud of "Raggedy." He's all right.

The subject of Eld. Tindler's Sunday morning discourse is Foreign Missions, the evening subject being "A Real Man."

Good Sale of Tobacco.

W. T. Noel, of Buckeye, sold his crop of seven hogheads of tobacco to the Central House, Louisville, weight 8155 pounds, for $9.25 all round at home.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society will have a handkerchief and candy sale in the room over the Joseph Mercantile Co's store Saturday, March 17th. The public is cordially invited, and your patronage will be appreciated.

The will of the late Squire Wm. H. Kinnaird was probated in the county court Monday. His son, Capt. Wm. J. Kinnaird is the executor, the estate being left to the widow and two single daughters, Misses Kate and Lillian.

A large crowd was attracted to the store of Currey & Herndon by the reception Saturday afternoon. Hot coffee, chocolate and several new brands of wafers and crackers were served, while each lady was presented with a pretty carnation.

W. C. T. U. Moves

The Womans Christian Temperance Union has accepted the offer of the Masonic Lodge of the use of its rooms, and the next meeting will be held there. The meetings of the Union are well attended and the organization was never in better condition.

A Big Improvement.

The congregation at the local Baptist church has purchased very handsome pews for the building, and they will be placed in a few days. They are golden oak, with hand carved ends. Being of circular form, this will make one of the prettiest and most comfortable churches in Central Kentucky.

Mr. J. Will James, of Crab Orchard died at his home in that city Sunday night after a brief illness of hemorrhage of the stomach. He was 45 years of age, and a splendid gentleman. He leaves a widow, who was Miss Magie Buchanan. The remains were interred at Crab Orchard Tuesday.

Midnight Prowlers.

The midnight prowler has been making his rounds. The home of Judge Burnside was visited the other night, but the six or eight shots fired at him by "Pete" and "Mole" will have a tendency to keep Mr. Prowler away from there in the future. This is the medicine every housekeeper should be prepared to give parties prowling about their premises. Buy a gun and be ready.

Popular Goods.

The National Biscuit Co., whose goods are handled by Currey & Herndon, are building up an immense trade in their section with the superior goods they make. Their goods are the purest made, always fresh and give universal satisfaction to the trade. Ask for the National Biscuit Company's goods, and you will never be disappointed.

Moves To Georgetown.

Mr. C. T. Jenkins, one of the best young men Garrard county ever produced, has decided to locate in Georgetown, and will move to that thriving city next week. He will likely engage in the feed supply business, and his success is assured. We dislike very much to give up good citizens like Mr. Jenkins, but wish him well in his new location.

New Type for Record Office.

Mr. Wm. Mingle, representing the Keystone Type Foundry, Philadelphia, was here Saturday to take an order from The Record for a big lot of new type and other material for our job department. The Record has the best assortment of job type, the newest and best presses, in fact every modern equipment for turning out work of the best quality.

A Natural-Born Hustler.

We don't believe a better newspaper man than Ed Walton was ever born into the world, and we are positive that a bigger-hearted or more honorable man never occupied the tripod. He was in Lancaster Monday working in the interest of his most excellent paper, the Stanford Interior Journal, and his visit to our sanctum was greatly enjoyed and appreciated. He is publishing one of the best papers in the South, and richly deserves the success with which he is meeting. Ed Walton never knowingly said a mean thing about anyone, and will go his length anywhere for a friend. Our only regret is that there are not more men of his make-up.

A Good Idea.

Prof. J. H. Lippard, of Cincinnati, was here this week with the view of establishing a branch of Lippard's Business College in Lancaster during the summer months. These branch schools have been quite a success in other towns, and there is no reason why it would not be a great benefit here. There are many boys in Lancaster who are growing up like gymnasium weeds, learning no profession or trade, and their parents should see that they are given a good business course. If the school is established, due notice will be given through these columns, and the opportunity should be taken advantage of by parents who wish their sons to amount to something.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society has engaged Dr. T. T. Eaton, of Louisville, to deliver one of his popular lectures here Friday evening, April 27th. His subject will be "Poor Kin." If

W. H. Harris minstrels will show at the court house Friday night, the 9th. Manager Harris has engaged a number of special artists to assist, and a fine show is assured. Special seats for white people.

Flower Sale.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society will have a flowersale at the store of C. D. Powell, beginning on April 15th and continuing several days. A splendid assortment will be on hand, and you buy them at very reasonable prices. Remember the date. If

The Hotel.

Almost enough money to build the hotel has been made up, and a meeting will be held in a few days to secure the remainder. This is the best move Lancaster hustlers have ever brought about, as it means a revival in business and a general awakening of the town which could have never been brought about in any other manner. If you have your town's interest at heart, put your shoulder to the wheel, and help secure this money, and show that you are of some benefit to the community.

Court Day.

A large crowd attended county court Monday, and business with the merchants was fairly good. Capt. Am. Burn, the veteran auctioneer, kindly gives The Record the following report: About 150 or 200 cattle at the stock pens, most of them changing hands at prices ranging from 3 1/4 to 4 cts. Mules were brisk, price ranging from $100 to $200. There was a large demand for plug horses, prices ranging from $20 to $65. Sows and pigs sold from $15 to $32. C. P. Underwood sold a cow and calf for $32.75. W. S. Bettis sold a three year-old mule to Woods Walker for $187.50.

A Pretty Entertainment.

The Christian church was crowded Thursday evening, by our people who were attracted by the Lilliputian wedding. The different characters were taken by the little folk of Lancaster, and, in full dress coats, and evening costumes presented a scene as novel as it was pretty. Lack of space prevents going into detail, but we will say that each participant performed his or her part with the ease and grace of an old actor. During the evening the audience was favored by vocal solos by Misses Lillie and Mattie May Leavelle, Miss Katherine Conn and Mr. Parr, which were greatly enjoyed. Miss Bessie Elkin, of Louisville, who managed the wedding, was warmly complimented on the success of the entertainment, and the ladies are deeply grateful to her for her kindness in coming and arranging the entertainment. A neat sum was realized for the Ladies Aid Society.

The Rural Routes.

The two rural routes now in operation in Garrard county are proving a great blessing to those citizens who have taken advantage of the splendid services afforded by them, but unless the people along the lines all put up boxes, there is a strong probability that they will be either discontinued or only three deliveries a week. We made Uncle Sam wants to give the service provided the people want it and appreciate it, but if only a handful of patrons put up boxes, the Government will not maintain the routes. There are many people living along the lines who have not put up boxes and our advice is that they have boxes established at once, as Uncle Sam is pruning his routes and many have been discontinued in this section of the state. The rural carriers sell stamps, register letters, and give the rural patrons every advantage of the town post office. If you live along one of these routes, have a box put up. It costs only about a dollar.

A New Bank.

Lancaster is to have a new bank, the name to be The Garrard Bank and Trust Co. The capital stock is $5,000, most all of which has been subscribed. The institution will purchase the corner lot and erect its own building in the new hotel, owing up to the second floor. A large basement will be built, absolutely fireproof and burglarproof, in which will be constructed safety deposit boxes to be rented. The room will extend back on Richmond street almost half the depth of the lot, the remainder of lot on Richmond street being used for the dining room and ladies entrance to the hotel. The list of stockholders is made up of Garrard county's most prosperous, progressive and influential citizens, and success of the institution is foregone conclusion. The stockholders are located all over Garrard county, and one has been allowed to have any large number of shares, which is a mighty good idea. As the stock is about all subscribed, a meeting will be held soon and the organization perfected. No officers have been selected, though those talked of are splendid men for the places.

Look, Listen!

Have your cisterns cleaned now with the patent cleaner and catch March rains for Summer. Prices reasonable, satisfaction guaranteed, Hatcher & Ball.

A MISTAKE.

Through an error last week, we were made to quote the price of The Cincinnati Daily Post and The Central Record at $3.50 when it should have been $2.50. We can send you both papers at two and a half for one year. This is the best newspaper clubbing rate we have ever been able to offer, and many are taking advantage of it. Remember, you must pay for The Central Record in order to get the advantage of this offer. Send us $2.50 and we will send you The Central Record and Cincinnati Daily Post for one year. The Post's market reports can not be excelled and the paper is printed at two o'clock in the afternoon and reaches Lancaster at 8:26 the same evening. This offer will last for only a few days. Come a running.

No Place Like Kentucky.

Ex-Senator Wm. Lindsey is nothing if not a Kentuckian, and he is quoted as saying he would rather make a bare living in his native state than be a millionaire elsewhere. While at Frankfort not long since on some legal business, he accepted an invitation to address the General Assembly, and the legislators were delighted with his address. In connection with the "Home Coming" of Kentuckians, he told a good story. "I expect I am like most Kentuckians in New York," he said. "They all talk of the time when they can get enough money to come back home and really live. It reminds me of a story told at the Kentucky Society banquet in the metropolis recently. According to this tale, an Eastern man went to heaven, where found everyone enjoying themselves with the exception of a certain crowd of men who were chained to stakes and wore a discontented expression. 'What's the matter with those fellows?' inquired the Easterner of St. Peter. 'Why, those men are Kentuckians,' replied the venerable gate keeper, 'and every time they get loose they make a break for Kentucky.' That's just about the way I feel, and when the time comes for me to die, which I hope will be some years hence, I want to be brought right back here to Frankfort and rest in the old graveyard on the hill."

Alex Bishop, who has been seriously ill of pneumonia, is better to day.

Lancaster Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, has so many petitions on hand that special meetings are being held to keep up with the work. Quite a number are wanting to get through the Commandery in time to attend the annual Conclave at Paris in May.
